WASHINGTON HERALD BUREAU, (Bell Telephone 69.) 529 King Street.

Alexandria, Va., Aug. 8.-Notwithstand ing the fact that Lieut. Gov. J. Taylor Ellyson has announced his intention to again stand for re-election to that office, James R. Caton to-day reiterated the announcement of his candidacy for the lieutenant governorship, made some time ago He gave out the following statement for publication to-day:

"The office of lieutenant governor is one of honor and not of emolument, and the universal custom has been for the lieutenant governor to retire with the governor, and at this time I do not recall a single instance in which the lieutenant governor has been re-elected.

"Four years ago I was a candidate for the office, and had progressed to a considerable extent in my canvass when Mr. Ellyson, after having previously declined to become a candidate, announced his
